RSS Guide Internet Explorer

Creating an RSS Feed while using the Internet Explorer browser (from now on, refereed to as IE) is simple and straightforward. In this guide we will go over how to create an RSS Feed in IE.

Step 1: Click on a link

Click on any of the links in the list that you wish to receive RSS notifications on.
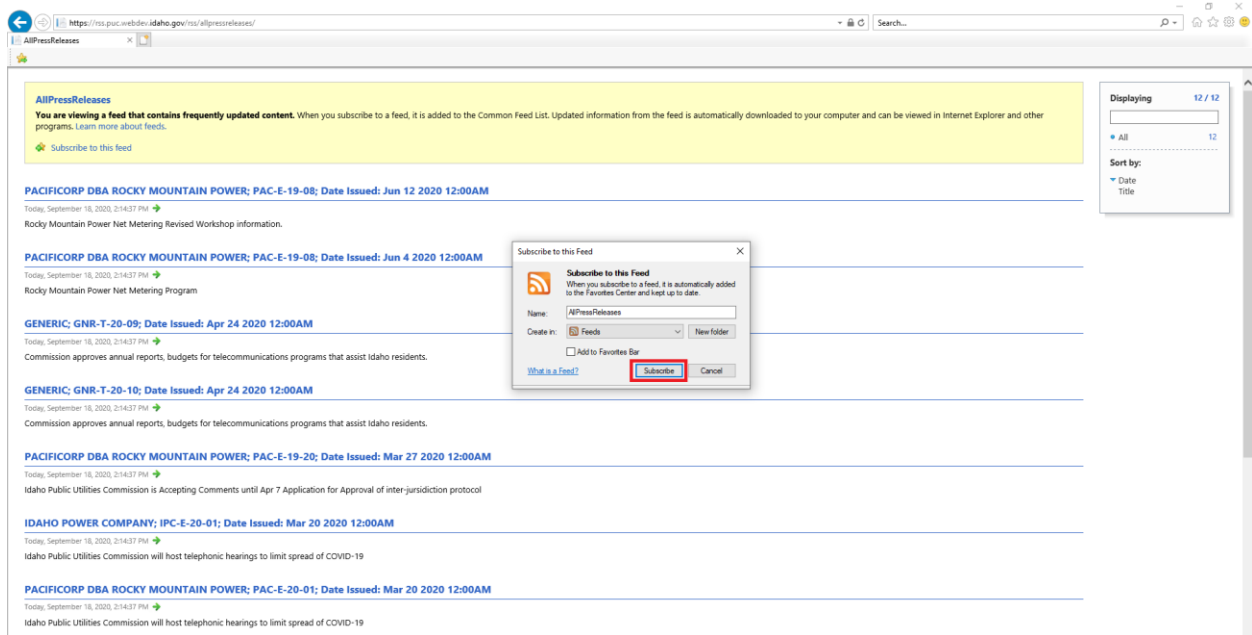

Step 2: Click on "Subscribe to this feed"

On the top left of the screen, highlighted in a red border, is a link called "Subscribe to this feed." Clicking on this link.

Step 3: Click on "Subscribe"

A pop-up should appear on your screen after Step 2. This is asking for more information related to this RSS Feed IE is making for you. The RSS Feed can be renamed, added to the Favorites Bar, and other things. When all this information is to your liking, click on the "Subscribe" button.

Step 4: Confirm RSS Subscription

Congratulations, you are now subscribed to this RSS Feed! You will notice that the yellow banner asking you to subscribe to the RSS Feed is gone, as you have now signed up. On the upper-right hand side of the screen, next to the close window button, is a star icon. Clicking this icon will show you your favorite sites, your RSS Feeds, and your browsing history. If you click on the Feeds tab, you can see that your RSS Feed is saved and ready to tell you of any updates that Public Utilities Commission has done.
